(Discuss importance in terms of historical or architectural context as defined by theme, period, and geographic scope. Also address integrity)

Building N-253 was constructed towards the southern border of the NASA Ames Research Center as the Badging and Reception facility for the center. In 1985, the Badging and Reception Facility was relocated to its current location in Building 26. Currently, Building N-253 is used as a Teacher Resource Center and educational facility and maintains proximity to the current child care center. Research at the NASA Ames Research Center Main Library did not yield any relevant historical information on this property.

Building N-253 was constructed in 1977 and does not meet the fifty-year old threshold for National Register of Historic Places properties. Furthermore, the building does not qualify under National Register Criteria Consideration G: Properties That Have Achieved Significance Within The Past Fifty Years, since it is of contemporary construction and does not possess exceptional significance under any of the National Register criteria.
